

Gray, washed out looking trim ages vehicles and reduces their resale value. Through our training, we will show you how to make most black and gray trim look like great again.

Most of today's headlights are made from plastic which is vulnerable to sunlight, dirt, and debris. Over time, headlights can become cloudy and dull, reducing visibility and making nighttime driving more dangerous. By learning our unique process, you can restore headlights to like new condition, allowing your clients to see further at night and in the rain.
